Thula Thula, meaning 'peace and tranquillity' in Zulu, is steeped in history. Once the hunting grounds of the mighty King Shaka, the reserve abounds with wildlife, including a breeding herd of elephant, the first to roam the land in over a century.

Rediscover nature in great style at Thula Thula's Tented Camp, where the soothing essence of the bush can be heard and felt.

Exclusivity is assured with eight luxury tents, all with private viewing decks, mosquito nets, fans and en suite bathrooms with Victorian baths. Two family tents offer space, comfort and generous en suite bathrooms with indoor and outdoor showers.

View wildlife while sipping a cocktail from the swimming pool bar or relax in your hammock overlooking the Enseleni River.

A buffet lunch is served at the outside thatched bar or by the swimming pool. Dine under the stars for a traditional South African braai or potjie, while sharing stories of the day's game viewing or the legends of the bush with Thula Thula's dedicated rangers and trackers.

Co-owner Lawrence Anthony is a passionate conservationist and environmentalist. One of Lawrence's most acclaimed achievements was rehabilitating a herd of rogue African elephants, a feat that earned him the reputation of 'the elephant whisperer'.

Co-owner and French-trained chef, Françoise Anthony, entertains with flair to create exotic Franco-African flavours. Choose from a mouth-watering selection of seafood, venison and vegetarian dishes, guaranteed to delight even the most discerning gourmet.

Situated in a malaria-free area an easy two-hour drive from Durban and five hours from Johannesburg, Thula Thula is the ultimate destination to experience a true taste of Africa.
